

Farren Drury, MBE
Director

Farren 'connects' with people in a unique way. His passion and enthusiasm are palpable and infectious. As a coaching client recently said - he 'recharges batteries' in the most 'wonderful' way! And has a profound influence working at every level.

An exceptional change leader, he brings credibility, gravitas and the ability to inspire individuals, teams and organisations. He has the courage and the intellect to question and challenge.

He has been labelled a great role model to young people, not only because of his incredible life experiences but because he remains determined to grow and develop. Living his values of loyalty, integrity, hard work and family, he is immensely positive and has a great story to tell.

With a purpose to help people of all ages and backgrounds fulfil their potential, he has delivered confidential personal development and coaching to a number of very high profile future leaders and he has driven LIW's Foundation for Young Leaders (FYL) initiative. He is the founder of a Visual Development Planning tool which is having a powerful impact in business and personal development.

Farren served all over the world during a distinguished military career and was awarded the MBE for services to the Former Yugoslavia. Separately as a Commanding Officer his Battalion were recognised with the award of The Wilkinson Sword of Peace and The Institute of Public Relations Sword of Excellence.

Farren remains a passionate sports enthusiast, youth rugby coach and active member of the Lord's Taverners charity. He has practiced Transcendental Meditation since he was 15.
