

Jani Marok
Senior Consultant

Jani has been leading teams, both large and small, national and multinational, across the globe for over 21 years. He is passionate about translating leadership theory into practical applications and helping to build winning teams.

He has worked at the strategic level in government ministries and has worked on leadership development programmes at the senior executive level in the commercial and public sectors, including the Police and the NHS. He has also worked with elite sporting organisations.

While serving as an officer in the Royal Marines he was decorated for valuable service on operations by both the UK and US Governments. Before leaving the Royal Marines, he was the Commanding Officer of the prestigious Commando Training Centre in Devon. This role involved leading almost 1000 military and civilian personnel, allowing him to hone his leadership skills and focus on aligning the energy of some of Britain's most highly trained and professional forces.

Jani holds both Bachelors and Masters degrees, and is a graduate of the Joint Services Command and Staff College. He believes deeply in environmental sustainability, he is a Fellow of the Royal Geographic Society and a member of the Rare Breeds Survival Trust.
